STATE FACES BIG PBOBLEM IN CARE OF "TRANSIENTS"

NRA Regulations Make Relief for 75,000 Men on the Road, Difficult

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2—(UP)—Jus. what's to be done about California's annual winter "transients" this year is a problem furrowing the brow these days of Emergency Relief Administrator C. E. Brannion.

Brannion takes his job of relieving the state's needy and unemployed seriously, and he sees staring him in the face an anonymous situation, virtually prohibits much state support for the labor camps that last winter dotted the state's mountain country.

Last year the camps kept a fairly constant population of some 7,000 "transients," knights of the road who frequently were simply specimens of normally employed citizens upon whom evil times had fallen.

There are just as many such in California today as last year. and when winter comes there doubtedlss will be the usual seasonal invasion by new hordes. Brannion said a count September 1 by every relief, welfare and social service agency in the state co-operating with the state highway patrol showed 54,000 tabulated "transients" in California. "From the various counts made, we estimated about 75,000 were in California that day," Brannion said.

The catches—there are two of them—in the plan for keeping the "transients" off the streets and high ways this winter are found in the NRA code and the state's standards for relief of its own destitute citizens.

"The NRA code requires minimum wages of 30 cents an hour," Brannion pointed out. "And with six hours work five days a week, that comes to $9."

He explained the maximum deductable would be $3.50 weekly, the approximately exact cost of caring for the men.

"And that," he said, "would leave a man $22 cash at the end of four weeks in camp. And $22 is approximately the amount the state is willing to spend to care for one of its own real citizens who has a family to provide for—$22 a month.

"Well," Brannion said pugnaciously, "I'm certainly not going to give one of those labor camp men a surplus big enough to care for a California family—not with state money as long as there's a California family to care for."

Brannion said he had hope of solving the problem with federal money but would not know until he has conferred with Pierce Williams, western field representative of the federal emergency relief administration. Williams is expected here before October 6.

WOMAN SEARCHES FOR HUSBAND IN NEVADA CO.

Mrs. Kate John is searching the Mother Lode for her husband, Henry John, who has been missing for 14 months. He left home without means of any kind, on foot, leaving his wife and little daughter in Grant's Pass, Oregon, where the family then resided. Mrs. John believes that her husband sought employment and perhaps, obtained it, in one of the towns along the Mother Lode. She has asked the Nevada City Nugget to appeal to anyone who may know her husband, to communicate with her, Mrs. Kate John, Los Angeles, general delivery.

CELEBRATION MARKS CARSON HILL OPENING

Howard W. Bray, dealer in imported steel and mining machinery, is a visitor in Nevada City renewing old acquaintences. He reports that at the opening of the Carson Hill mine at Malones, more than 4000 people celebrated the event on the ground. The 30 stamp mill of the property has been closed for five years. L. Monte Verdi is superintendent of the property. Melones is six miles from Angeles Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKee, Jr., of San Francisco spent this week end in Nevada City.

MOUNTAIN LIONS HARD HIT BY DEPRESSION

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—(UP)—The depression also has hit at California's famed mountain lions!

Department of Resources Director Dan H. Blood reported 23 lion hides sent in for the bounty—$30 for females and $20 for males—during August.

The average for the month is about a dozen.

Blood reported 195 killed this year, or 25 more than the average for the preceding five vears, and that despite the reports of hunters that the lion population has been decreasing in California.

The department of natural resources officials estimate each lion killed represents a saving of 50 or more deer yearly, plus the saving in livestock to cattlemen.

WORTH RESIGNS CITY COUNCIL

Fred C. Worth, owing to ill health and the press of business affairs, on Friday, handed in his resignation as city councilman. The city council regretfully accepted Mr. Worth's resignation and appointed Benjamin Hall to the vacancy.

At this session of the council a letter from the State Highway Commission was read, asking the city to set aside as a part of the state highway system certain streets which will thereafter be maintained by the highway system.

The following are the portions of the streets named by the commission:

Commencing at Broad and York streets; thence north along York to Coyote street; thence north on Coyote to Washington street; thence north on Washington street to the northerly limits of the city, a distance of .65 of a mile.

Commencing at the south limits of Nevada City; thence along Pine to Broad street; thence along Broad to the corner of Broad and Pine st., a distance of .79 of a mile. This would include the Gault bridge which would be kept in repair by the state.

Commencing at Broad and York streets, thence westerly along Broad street to the Downieville highway; thence along the Downieville highway to the westerly limits of the city, a distance of .56 of a mile.

The council deferred action on this matter until the regular October meeting of the council.

FOREST CAMPS NOW TOTAL 151

In addition to the 89 C. C. C. winter camps in the California national forests the U. S. Forest Service will establish 34 additional camps under N. R. A. appropriations for the improvement and development of the forest resources, according to S. B. Show, Regional Forester. Most of these camps will be in operation by October 15 or sooner. The principal work will be the construction and maintenance of secondary roads in the national forests. Distribution of the N. R. A. camps by national forests is:

Angeles 1, Eldorado 1, Klamath 4, Lassen 2, Mendocino 3, Modoc 2, Plumas 2, San Bernardino 1, Santa Barbara 4, Sequoia 3, Shasta 3, Sierra 2, Stanislaus 1, Tahoe 1, Trinity 4.

Latest reports from the office of Robert Fechner give California a total of 151 C. C. C. winter camps, an increase of 27 over the previous report. These will be distributed as follows: National forests 89, State Division o fForestry 38, national park 10, and State parks 14. Present locations for 93 camps are approved for winter work and the necessary alterations will be made to make them suitable for cold weather. Fifty-eight new camps will have to be built. Alterations and new construction will require approximately 10 million feet of lumber besides other building material. All winter camps will be equipped with electirc lighting systems.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Staples and son, Charles and wife of Graniteville were business visitors in Nevada City today.

Highway Goal, 50,000 In Jobs By Christmas

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—(UP)—California is in no danger of having its $16,000,000 federal road construction allocation withdrawn, despite reports from Washington.

This assurance was given to Earl Lee Kelly, state director of public works, by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States bureau of public roads in a long distnace telephone conversation.

California was mistakenly listed as being "dilatory" in starting its road program, when actually more than $8,000,000 of the federal funds are contracted for.

As a part of its program to speed up the state highway program, awards totaling $363,429 were made this week, and bids were opened for other contracts amounting to approximately $600,000. The department's motto is "50,000 men at work by Chiristmas."

State officers are united in the belief that repeal of the 2½ per cent sales tax would be disastrous at this time. According to Rolland A. Vandegrift, state director of finance and no warm friend of the tax, repeal would throw the state more than $120,000,000 in debt. Such a huge deficit would be difficult to wipe out no matter what tax was chosen to replace the sales levy. An immediate special session of the legislature would be necessary in event of repeal.

A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture, is planning a trip to Florida in an attempt to heal a "sore spot" between the two citrus-producing states. His program may pave the way for a modification of the California quarantine against Flordia grapefruit, it is believed.

On occsion arrest is welcome. Francis Cochran, Governor Rolph's assistant secretary, recently drove through the new Ridge Route cut-off to Los Angeles. The road is not open to the public and Frank was stopped by the watchman on the south end. The watchman could not be convinced. So Cochran phoned the Los Angeles Sheriff's office. His car was released when officers arrested him. Frank's father is a deputy sheriff.

Governor Rolph has returned to his office in the capitol, but his work in the future must be on a modified scale. A bit thinner, but cheerful, Rolph plans to spend only a few hours each day to permit him to recover fully from recent illness. Physicians have ordered a full rest each night, instead of his customary occasional "cat naps."

The state board of equalization has warned all merchants that returns on the sales tax must be made between October 1 and 15. Retailers are subject to a heavy penalty if the tax is not paid within the required time limit.

FAMED "CASTLE IS NOW "INTERNATIONAL HOUSE"

"The Castle" an old brick mansion, built on Prospect Hill 75 years ago by Judge Wallace Williams, who practiced law in Nevada City at that time, has at last apparently become the headquarters for the California branch of the League of Nations, now situated at Geneva, Switzerland.

The old brick building now houses one Frenchman, two Italians, one Swede, one Austrian, one Hollander, two Greeks and three Americans.

Judge W. Williams, original owner, so the story goes, made his fortune in panning gold in Deer Creek sand bars at the place where W. B. Celio's building, the Plaza Grocery, now stands. According to W. V. Tamblyn, local theatre man, Mr. Williams took out $500 in gold in one pan. Judge Williams owned 16 store buildings in Nevada City at one time and the fire of '63 destroyed them all.

Each eveving at sundown as Judge Williams returned home from his office, he climbed to the fourth story of his home and walked out on the topmost balcony, where he played his cornet, rain or shine, year in and year out, until it became a fixed event in Nevada City.

"The Castle" is now the property of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Addington.

Judge Williams, a noted attorney, practiced law in Nevada City in the years when Niles Searls, A. C. Niles and Judge Wilson; also prominent lawyers, lived here.

HUNTERS BAGS BUCK NOTED FOR CLUB FOOT

Charles Erway, who is employed at the Murchie mine, went hunting near North Columbia yesterday and killed a large six point buck that weighed 160 pounds when dressed. It took Mr .Erway and his father, George Erway, three hours to carry the big deer into camp.

This big buck had a club foot and had been seen in the North Columbia district for the last five or six years.

Joe Sbaffi received a new Plymouth coupe for his 21 birthday, which occurred last Thursday.

MERCHANT SALES TAX REPORT DUE

By MELVIN LORD

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 1—(UP)—Retailers must be prepared to make returns on the first-quarter sales tax between October 1 and October 15, the state board of equalization warned today.

Under the tax law the reports of sales are due October 1, and delinquent after October 15. Penalties will be assessed against merchants who fail to make returns by the latter date together with payments covering 2½ per cent of all sales made since the law became effective August 1.

In order to facilitate the making out of returns, the board announced that all retailers subject to the tax may obtain aid by calling at the nearest branch office.

The employes of the board will be at the branch office, the announcement said, daily from 8:30 a. m., to 5 p. m.

The sales tax administrators and the branch offices include the following:

Burnett Sheehan, 111 State building, San Francisco; Clarence Shearing, old high school building, Redding; Harry Mosher, 315 Financial Center building, Oakland; W. S. Freeland, 841 Van Ness avenue, Fresno; Roy K. Wheeler, 204 Commercial building, 28 No. 1st street, San Jose; W. Shackleton, Sonoma county court house, Santa Rosa; L. C. Maire, 941 Seventh avenue, San Diego; H. P. Kerrigan, Room 101, Hart building, 423 Fourth street, Marysville; H. B. Hoffman, 140 No. Hunter street, Stockton; Ed. T. Keiser, 306 State building, Los Angeles; W. C. Shay, 303 Central building, San Bernardino, and O. L. Good, 19 La Arcada building, Santa Barbara.

No matter what method was used in collecting the sales tax, the merchants must make the return on the basis of 2½ per cent of their gross retail of merchandise subject to the levy.

NEV. CITY C. C. C. CAMP MOVES TO LAKE COUNTY

One hundred and twenty-three C. C. C. camp boys of the Nevada City camp will go to Company 572 at Upper Lake, California tomorrow morning, while eight men, with all their camp equipment, will leave for Fort Knox, Kentucky on October 5th.

A camp detail of one officer, Lieutenant N. P. Zink, and 15 men will remain at camp at Nevada City for a few days to collect all unserviceable property and clean up the camp site before it is turned back to the state of California for a winter unemployment camp. It is expected that within a short time the state will place a number of unemployed men in this camp and they will be given work as they were last winter.

Mrs. Charles Wodell has been quite ill since the death of her sister, the late Miss Nellie Pascoe.

OROVILLE, Oct. 2—(UP)—Rapid turnover doesn't always produce a profit, in the opinion of Guy Kilkerson, Wyandotte district rancher.

One of Kilkerson's farming activities consists of poultry raising. Actual count at lockup time showed he had 1,100 laying hens, he told the sheriff.

When he visited the chicken yards next morning, Kilkerson said he found thieves had stolen the entire flock.

JOINT FUNERAL HELD FOR TWO AGED FRIENDS

"Dust to dust; ashes to ashes."

Two old friends residents of the county hosiptal for many years, passed away within a few hours of each other, Saturday. This afternoon a joint funeral service under the auspices of the Holmes Funeral Hime was held, after which the two aged comrades were carried to rest in the Pine Grove cemetery.

The two friends were James Pritchard, 103 years of age, and Joseph E. Kimball, 81 years old.

James Pritchard had resided in Nevada county for 63 years, coming to this state from Ohio where he was born. For many years he engaged in farming in the Rough and Ready district. He leaves no known relatives.

Joseph E. Kimball was formerly a resident of Truckee and had been in California for 23 years.

Both men were much attached to each other and made few friendships among the other residents of the county hospital. The Rev. H. H. Buckner conducted the services which were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MRS. HUGH MURCHIE TO LIVE IN FRESNO

Mrs. Hugh Murchie, who sold her home on Prospect Hill, left late Saturday evening for Fresno, where she will reside.

Her daughter, Mrs. Mildred Elliott motored up from Fresno and returned with her mother, who will reside nearby.

It was with a sad heart that Mrs. Murchie bade goodbye to her life long friends last week and they hope she will return to vist with them often.

Mrs. Murchie's health has not been good and she felt that the lower altitude and warmer winters would benefit her.

She and her husband, the late H. Murchie, spent practically all their lives and reared two daughters in this city.

The family that bought the Murchie home moved into the house Sunday.

TROMMEL SYSTEM USED BY FRENCH CORRAL MINE

The French Corral gravel mine is employing six men. including the partner owners. Ben A. Wise, one of th epartners, is manager. The trommel system is used. The cemented gravel is fed into the 30-foot trommel by a bull dozer caterpillar. The high banks, some of them 100 feet high are blasted down, and as the gravel is sifted through the trommel, it drops into a sluice box and is carried off over riffles. A separate power plant operates the trommel.

Water used for washing the gravel was pumped from the "glory hole" of the Taggertt ranch, until it got low, and new connections have been made now with the Esperon property. Plenty of water is available and a huge tonnage is being worked.

Mr. Karl Kopp, proprietor of Kopp's Bakery, has returned home much improved in health from several weeks stay at Walters Springs.

Martin Dellea, mining man of the Quaker Hill district, spent the week end in Neavda City with his wife.

C. C. C. BOYS SHOW LONG RECORD OF WORK WELL DONE

Twenty Camps Accomplish Miles of Improvements in Calif. National Forests

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2—(UP)—Actual accomplishments of thousands of young men in 22 C. C. C. camps established in California have been brought to light for the frist time.

Dan H. Blood, director of the department of natural resources, issued a comprehensive report showing precisely what these boys, aged between 18 and 25, have been doing during the summer months.

Here's what was done up to September 1:

Telephone lines, 56.15 miles.
Fire breaks, 49.93 miles.
Removal of fire hazards, 529.29 miles.
Roadside clearing (fire prevention, 172.49 miles.
Truck trails, 37.18 miles.
Minor highway maintenance, 20.00 miles.
State highway maintenance, .4 miles.
Foot trails, 2.0 miles.
Bridges for vehicles, 15.
Foot bridges, 4.
Rodent control, 40,040 acres.
Cattle guards, 2.

"At present, camps are somewhat disrupted," Blood said, "due to the fact that many boys are returning to their homes. It will be about a month before the camps are brought back to full strength."

N. C. GRIDDERS IN GAME BATTLE

One touch back in the second quarter saved the Nevada City lads from a goose egg score Saturday at Cashin field, with the final score 7 to 2 in favor of the Placerville lads, who aggregated more tonnage than the local boys.

The Nevada City gridders, lighter and in some respects friskier than their opponents, put up a game defensive battle throughout the four quarters with most of the playing in their territory.

Coach Bev Barron this morning stated that he felt much encouraged with the manner in which his lambs comported themselves and believes that their game defensive battle augurs well for the season. He states that Pierce will be back on his old job this week and that will help.

Placerville kicked off Saturday and during the first quarter Bob Tamblyn's end runs and the dogged tackling of Doolittle and Doyle did much to prevent a touch down by Placerville. Once in this quarter, Placerville succeeded in passing over Nevada City's goal line but the receiver fumbled the ball after he was tackled. Nevada City was given the ball and kept it until the end of the half.

At the beginning of the second half Placerville kicked to Tamblyn who ran back with the ball. The Nevada City lads made little headway and finally lost the ball to their opponents, who then began a march down the field, that ended with a dogged stand on Nevada City's two yard line that yielded eventually to a touch down against them. Placerville neatly converted.

When Placerville kicked again Doyle ran the ball back, and this was followed by a spectacular pass from Doyle to Tamblyn that gained about thirty yards for Nevada City. The ball was then on Placerville's ten yard line and this constituted the local gridders' chief bid for a touchdown.

Tamblyn bucked the line and would have made a touch down, according to the sharps on the side lines, but bumped into the referee, and the ball toter lost so much time pushing the official out of his path, that the chance to make a touchdown slipped. The final whistle left the score, Placerville 7 to Nevada City's 2.

WILL SALOONS COME BACK?

Will repeal of the 18th amendment mark the end of the nation's liquor problems? California editors apparently don't think so.

Unless proper control of the manufacture and sale of liquor is adopted, they say, we may still have the speakeasy flourishing, with all its attendant evils.

"The faces of the American people are definitely set against the salloon," said the Salinas Index-Journal, "but the years of prohibition have created a new institution in the shape of the speakeasy, where people of both sexes congregate and drink. The elimination of this is not going to be done overnight. The reasonable drinker who enjoys liquor in one form or another will be content with the privilege to buy in packages and not consume the contents in the place where the purchase is made. But do not forget there are millions of people who are not inclined that way, and in that fact lies a definite problem."

Declaring for stringent control of liquor sales, the Vallejo Times-Herald asks: "Today, as the eighteenth amendment is passing, are the various states, counties, and municipalities prepared to meet the new conditions? Have they adopted proper regulations? Is the saloon, and all of its attendant evils, definitely legislated out of future existence? We believe that the American people can be trusted to go further along lines of true temperance after repeal than they did during the fourteen years, PROVIDED the various legislative bodies of the land recognize some of the pitfalls and errors of preprohibition days and guard against them."

According to the Los Angeles Record, "It is not a bit too early to start this work. Unless all signs fail, the prohibition law has only a short time to live. The whole problem will then be turned back to the states, and it is essential that the states have the information which will enable them to make an intelligent choice of their course thereafter."

In the same vein, the San Francisco News remarks, "It is important that the states lose as little as possible in passing regulations otherwise they will encourage the schemes of racketeers to seize more control. It is even more important that these laws should prevent the recurrence of the pre-prohibition evils and advance moderate, open and civilized habits among the people."

Commenting on the state liquor control act adopted at the November, 1932 election, the Long Beach Press-Telegram states:

"Some Californians now are discovering for the first time that they voted to deprive their own city and their county of jurisdiction over the liquor trade, while others are surprised to learn from a statement by the state board of equalization that the state law will forbid saloons or bars for the dispensing of alcoholic beverages. Prospective liquor dealers are warned that if they invest in saloon fixtures they will be wasting their money, for saloons are prohibited by the liquor control act."

Also, adds the Orange Daily News, "many communities which have legalized the sale of 3.2 per cent beer will object to the sale of hard liquor and will demand the right to control the matter in accord with local sentiment. The principle of local option was well established in this country before prohibition and it is unlikely that any legislature will refuse to grant that right to communities. Until such action is taken, however, it appears that liquor will be sold freely everywhere. That is certainly a situation which the people of California did not intend to create."

WEEKLY COMMENT

By CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

Mount Everest in the Himalayas mountains is five miles above sea level. Now that scientists have reached an altitude of over eleven miles they make Everest small in comparison. But this mountain still defies man in his effort to climb to its top. Some day someone will go up in special balloon and to old Everest's surprise wlil alight right on top of his storm-marcelled head.

I have driven the Downieville road round trip from Nevada City 192 time in 11 months and in that time I have been a participant in but two minor accidents, one of which, was clearly my own fault, the other was as clearly the other man's fault. Women who drive these mountain roads are but few but when I see one coming I give her a wide berth.

It has evidently been a good idea to publicize the N. R. A. for the public has almost become hysterical about it. The effect has been widespread, generous and helpful to the country as a whole. However, if the merchants in each community will do as those of San Francisco did viz. advertise to beat the band. That in itself will bring out many hidden dollars (IF THE MERCHANDISE AND PRICES ARE RIGHT). Let us not have to have special days to do our stuff. Let us go about our business as usual, every day. This sort of living will do a lot to help.

The new road from the North Yuba river bridge to Dobbins will soon be under construction. My understanding is that the forestry men will do the work as far as they are available, and then if any more help is needed, other men will be used but it is extremely unlikely that any other help will be needed.

There has been some fear that this road would divert trade from the twin cities, however there are many who think it will augment the trade, anyway, it is progress and therefore inevitable.

Sedum spathulifolium: that said in English is the name of the stonecrop, which is used extensively in rockeries. There are many varieties, all odd, all useful, and in their oddity lies their beauty and they grow profusely in this part of California.

The preface to "Wild Flowers of California" by Mary Parsons and Margaret Buck, has an introductory paragraph which I think is worth incorporating.

"To the thoughtless a flower is often a trival thing—beautiful perhaps, and worthy of a passing glance—but that is all.

"But to the mind open to the great truths of the universe, it takes on a deeper significance. Such a mind sees in its often humble beginnings the genesis of things far reaching and mighty. Two thousand years ago one grain of the shower of pollen wafted upon the wind and falling upon a minute undeveloped cone, quickened a seed there into life, and this dropping into the soil pushed up a tiny thread of green, which after the quiet process of the ages, you now behold in the giant Sequoia which tosses its branches aloft swept by the four winds of heaven." The women who wrote this were spirits of a very high order.

In regard to the giant Redwood, 'Sequoia Gigantea,' the new catalogues list this majestic tree as Wellingtoniana in honor of the great English general. The British botanical society meeting in this country sponsored the adoption of the new name and the Americans present let it get by, but don't forget that The Great American Indian, none other than SEQUOIA, called the attention of Prof. Willis to this oldest of all living trees, save only one (the Ginka). Willis was impressed by this immense living thing and to honor his Indian friend he named it SEQUOIA Gigantea. Perhaps I will be considered rude, perhaps impolite, maybe a die hard, but I risk all of these and facing in whatever direction this tree may be, with a patriotic palpitation of the heart, I say only SEQUOIA GIGANTEA.

E. De Prati, Nevada countys last Civil War veteran, came over from Grass Valley this morning to attend to business in Nevada City.

Our Correspondents

FRENCH CORRAL

(By Mrs. Kate M. Sulivan)

FRENCH CORRAL, Sept. 28th—Everything going on in the usual way in this section of the U. S. A.

The continous rain over Sunday night was very welcome. While we wished for more of it we were very pleased to have a general clearing up of the summer dust.

We note a great increase in the traffic through this section the past summer and we are sure that our good roads will be an invitation for more in the future.

Your correspondent has been unable to gather much news for the past week but here goes for what we can garner.—

Mr. and Mrs. L. Day made a trip to this place Friday and their daughter Mrs. Joe Swazey and children returned to Nevada City with them.

E. Haslett and E, Jarvis, of this place attended the danec at Camptonville Saturday night and reported the usual good time.

No service was held in the Catholic churceh in Birchville on the usual 4th Sunday as the Rev. O'Rielly had to be present at the service of his pupils in Nevada City, when the Rev. Bishop Armstrong, of Sacramento, confirmed a class of thirty. Among those who received the sacrament of Confirmation were: Mrs. Alive Swazy of French Corral and Eugene and Howard Reader of the little town of Sweetland.

Mrs. Eva Smith, of Los Angeles, eldest daughter of Thomas Hall of Birchville paid a visit to her old home town last week. She came up from Folsom Friday where she visited with her father who is now staying with his son Charles Hall, of this place. She returned to Los Angeles Wednesday. Her sister—Mrs. Lillian Hall, and J. Fogarty accompanied her as far as Marysville.

M. Maddock, manager of French Corral Mine, returned from a business trip to Oakland today. He was accompanied by his mother, who will visit here with us for a while.

The many friends of Eddie Jarvis, are rejoicing over his fortunate escape from a terrible death. Last Sunday evening when returning from Bridgeport, a short in the wiring caused his lights to go out when he was making a sharp turn and he made too wide a turn causing the automobile to overturn and go over the steep grade. The branches of a large oak tree prevented the machine from going into the deep canyon below. It took him over an hour to extricate himself from the car, as his leg was caught. It certainly was a thrilling experience. Eddie had to make his way in the dark over trees and rocks and brush, but he is a gritty fellow and despite the suffering from the injured leg he finally reached the road and made his way to the home of Sylvan Anderson, who brought him to his home at Empire Flat.

The next morning in returning to the wreck, it was foud to be ready for the junk pile—but through the persistant efforts of A. Browning the machine was finally brought to the road and found the damage was much less than had been expected. It was a lucky escape for Eddie and he is a happy boy in having his car in running order so soon.

OAKLAND HIGH IN PUBLIC HEALTH RANK

The City of Oakland is one of the healthiest in the country when compared to other muncipalities of approximately 300,000 population, according to a report of the state department of public health.

A statistical comparison of death rates for diptheria, typhoid, and tuberculosis, as well as infant and maternal mortality shows that Oakland has the lowest rates for any of the cities of comparable population.

Other cities rating high were Houston, Texas; Columbus, Ohio, Toledo, Ohio; and Denver, Colorado.

NORTH CLUMBIA, Sept. 28—T. B. English, long time resident of Nevada county and owner of the Rose Valley ranch of North Columbia, is suffering from a severe cold.

The best method of accomplishing things is to use your brain, so states Miss Florence Hatcher of Columbia Hill. Miss Hatcher is putting every male inhabitant that ventures inside of her gate to work digging a well. Said well is advancing at the rate of six inches per day and to date is three feet deep.

Can We Depend on This?—Recently a newly created Marysville father absent from home on a business trip received news of the blessed event in a telegram.

"Eleanor gave birth to an eight pound girl this morning stop both doing well."

Pasted to a corner of the telegram was a sticker reading: "If you want a boy call Western Union."

HIGHWAY PATROL TO CHECK GLARING LIGHTS

By THOMAS B. MALARKEY

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2—(UP)—Wall-eyed, cross-eyed and glaring headlights that temporarily blind approaching motorists will eventually be a thing of the past if the persistent campaign of the California highway patrol bears fruit.

About one out of every two automobiles in the state carry headlights which fail to measure up to state requirements, accroding to E. Raymond Cato, chief of the highway patrol.

Because of this situation, Cato has undertaken a light correction drive extending into every county of the state.

During the seven months' period ending July 31, 498 motorists in Nevada county were stopped by highway patrolmen and ordered to fix their lights. Total for the state during the same interval was 257,339.

Cato said patrolmen stopped a large number of cars in Hollywood last May and discovered to their amazement that lights on 67 per cent of the cars were deficient.

Later on, he added, another check was made at the same location. The light violations dropped down to 50 per cent.

"Incorrect lights only cause about one per cent of our accidents," Cato said. "But we know the annoyance of meeting a car on a dark night whose lights blind you temporarily."

GAS TAX AHEAD OF BEER TAX BY MILLON PER MO.

Uncle Sam is getting more income from the federal tax on gasoline than he is getting from the tax on beer. Receipts of the federal government from gasoline tax collections were $1,000,000 greater in one month, July, than the amount received during the same period from the federal tax on the relegalized 3.2 beverage.

This is revealed by an analysis of federal tax income for July in a report received by the California State Automobile Association. The report also demonstrates that motor vehicle owners paid twenty per cent of all tax revenues collected by the federal government in that month.

Out of a total July federal tax income of $131,113,697, the contributions of motorists represented $26.-570,790. Their largest single contribution was the $15,799,054 paid by them in taxes on motor fuel. With gasoline taxes in all of the states amounting roundly to $42,000,000 a month, the total tax bill on gasoline for the month was more than $57,-000,000.

The July federal gasoline tax collections represented an increase of about $5,000,000 over the June collections and reflected the first full month's income from the additional one-half cent per gallon levied as one of the major sources of income to finnace the National Recovery Act. During the fifteen-year life of this additional levy it is estimated that motorists will pay a total of approximately one billion dollars toward the recovery program. Under the act, $400,000,000 is allocated to the states for highway work.

Gasoline provided the second largest single source of revenue to the federal government in July, being exceeded only by the revenue from taxes on cigarettes. The gasoline tax not only yielded $1,000,000 more than the beer tax, but was $3,000,-000 greater than the revenue from income taxes.

The $26,570,790 federal taxes paid by motorists during the month included, in addition to gasoline taxes the following: Lubricating oil, $2,-451,639; tires and tubes, $3,623,941; trucks, $471,945; automobiles and motorcycles, $3,743,539; parts and accessories, $480,672.

FIRE LOSSES CUT IN FORESTS AND ON RANGES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2—(UP)—California's fire losses up to September 1, in state patrolled fields and forests amounted to $99,713.45, compared with $110,503.84 for the same date in 1932, according to the division of forestry.

PERMITS REQUIRED FOR TEAR GAS WEAPON

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—(UP)—Don't carry a tear gas weapon without a permit.

Don't carry a tear gas weapon that is not stamped with the manufacturer's name and a serial number.

These two "don'ts" were voiced by Clarence S. Morrill, chief of the state bureau of criminal identification, who pointed out that the possession of such a weapon without a serial number was a felony under state law.

"We have found recently that numerous persons are carrying tear gas "fountain pens" which cannot be identified by any means. This constitutes a felony and persons should be sure they have the authority to carry such a weapon and that the "pen" is properly identified," Morrill said.

Morrill also warned persons carrying these weapons that extreme care should be used in handling them. A direct shot of the gas will cause a painful burn and develop quickly into tetanus or lockjaw, Morrill explained.

WHITE COLLAR COUNTY EMPLOYES LONG FOR NRA

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—(UP)—Being classed as a "white collar" employe also has its drawbacks, in the opinion of many county office workers.

In an opinion to the division of labor statistics and law enforcement, Attorney General Webb ruled the political code section providing an 8-hour day for county employes applies only to laborers on public works projects.

Employes in assessors' offices, or any other simlar departments, Webb also ruled, are not entitled to overtime for overtime work.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. Otto Schiffner Is Bridge Hostess

Mrs. Otto Schiffner most delightfully entertained Friday afternoon at a brdige party in honor of her friend Mrs. A. Kelly of Tonopah, Nevada.

There were sixteen guests present to enjoy the afternoon. Prize winners were Mrs. Eugene Tucker first; Mrs. Joe Huy, second and Mrs. Jack Widauf consolation. Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

City Card Players To Enjoy Big Treat

Card fans of Nevada City are looking forward eagerly to the Benefit Card Party which the Nevada City High School Honor Socity is giving next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. The proceeds from this affair will go to assist a former student of the society in defraying expenses at the University of California.

Whist, auction and contract bridge and mah jongg, will be the diversion of the evening with a special section devoted to whist for the students.

FLOWER SUNDAY DRAWS BIG THRONG TO TRINITY

A large congregation, augmented by forty boys from the Bear Valley C. C. C. camp, last evening filled the Trinity Episcopal church in observance of Flower Sunday. The musical program was of exceptional beauty. The Rev. Charles Washburn preached on the question: "Do You Believe In God?"

The church was profusely adorned with beautiful blossoms in lovely baskets and vases.

The combined choirs of Grass Valley and Nevada City rendered a special musical program to which was added solos by the following vocalists:

Mrs. Dalton; Harold Hansen, Mr. Cox of Grass Valley; Mrs. Lyda Talbot, Mrs. Chas. Elliott and Mrs. K. Celio of Nevada City; a quartette composed of Chester Prisk, Oakley Johns, Louie Hooper and Mr. Cox of Grass Valley.

Personal

Fred Miller, mining engineer of Grass Valley, was a business visitor in Nevada City early this morning.

Louis Nonneman, part owner of the old Delhi mine near North Columbia, came up from San Francisco Friday and went up to the mine.

Miss California Gibson, county assessor of Colusa county and sister-in-law, Mrs. Gion Gibson, visited with Mrs. Otto E. Schiffner Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Trimmer and little son, David, returned home Sunday after spending a month's vacation in the bay district with her parents.

Miss Betty Bettles and Charles Barker, Nevada City students in the University of California, spent the week with their parents in this city.

GOLD PANNERS TO MAKE ONLY ONE AFFIDAVIT

Treasury regulations, in response to the wide protest of gold panners and others whose production of gold is in small amounts, have been so changed that it is now only necessary for gold producers to send into the mint with their gold but one affidavit and duplicate respecting the place where, and the time when the gold was found.

One of the most delightful social events held in some time was given last Thursday by Mrs. Karl Kopp, when she entertained a number of guests at a bridge party.

High score was won by Mrs. Jean Tucker and Mrs. Ernest Schreiber won the consolation prize.

Those present to enjoy the happy event were: Mesdames Jean Tucker, Ernest Schreiber, James Penrose, Ed Schmidt, Louis Kopp, Lloyd Dudley, John Eden, Misses Frieda Hieronimous, and Adele Calanan and the hostess.

A profusion of gorgeous fall flowers were used to decorate the attractie rooms of the Kopp home.

Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

HIGH STUDENTS HEAR COMMODORE ARNESON

By HARLEY M. LEETE JR.

The high school Friday held a pep assembly in anticipation of the coming Nevada City-Placerville football game. The assembly meeting was called to order by the student body president, Ben Sweeney. Mr. Kjorlie announced that at the end of the period the last blanket issue of the Searchlight, the high school weekly would be distributed, henceforth only the student body members will receive the Searchlight. Monday afternoon at two o'clock Commodore Arneson will give a travel talk, illustrated by moving pictures. The program for which admission will be charged, will end with a Harold Lloyd comedy, "Skating Rink."

Several new yells were led by Bill Kirkham and Ray Wilde, after which Beryl Granholm led the students in the Nevada high song, "High O'er the Mountain Tops."

Ben Sweeney called upon members of the football team for impromptu talks and predictions on the coming game. Those who spoke were newly elected captain, Tom Doyle, S. Doolittle, Don Budy, Red Murray, Roman Rozynski, and Bob Tamblyn. Coach Barron gave a short optimistic talk on the prospects of winning the game.

After three final yells, the meeting was concluded by singing, "Purple and Gold."

Mrs. Gordon Hamilton came up from the bay district and with her husband, who is employed in Auburn, spent the week end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker, of Nevada City.

A birthday cake and a number of presents were given in a recent surprise birthday dinner to Dick Erway by several members of his family.

It gets things done

Your telephone saves trips to town and it brings you close to your neighbors. Day in and day out it helps you get things done. In emergencies it's priceless.

Nothing on farm or ranch does so much for so little.
